- 1 1835 CREATIVE STUDIOS
1835 Imperial Avenue
1835 Creative Studios is a cultural hub, a creative collective for local artists, makers, entrepreneurs, and innovators, located in Sherman Heights. 1835 Creative Studios provides a collaborative, affordable, safe space for local artists and the community.
- 2 PROJECT NEW VILLAGE/MOUNT HOPE COMMUNITY GARDEN
4261 Market Street
Operated by Project New Village, the Mt. Hope Community Garden consists of an urban food forest and agrarian wellness center covering one-third of an acre and providing a place for residents and community organizations to grow fruit, vegetables, and flowers.
- 3 BOWLEGGED BARBEQUE
4255 Market Street
Bowlegged Barbeque offers East-Texas style barbeque using recipes passed down from generation to generation. Inside, the dining room is like a small museum dedicated to R&B, with art and guitars mounted on the walls.
- 4 JOE AND VI JACOBS COMMUNITY CENTER
404 Euclid Avenue, 2008
The Joe and Vi Jacobs Community Center is home to many local organizations providing various services to the southeastern San Diego community.
- 5 WRITERZ BLOK
5010 Market Street
Writerz Blok is the first legal graffiti art park in the world, with over 10,000 square feet of paintable walls free to the public to bring their creativity and paint. The Yard has been showcased as a backdrop in photo shoots for music producers, dance crews, magazines, fashion schools, and the San Diego Police Department.
- 6 CHOLLAS CREEKSIDE PARK
602 Euclid Avenue
The Chollas Creek Enhancement Program transformed Chollas Creek from a hidden and neglected waterway into a linear urban park with public art features, becoming a civic focal point. The Chollas Creek walkway links nearby residents to shopping and transit while also providing a connection to nature.
- 7 ELEMENTARY INSTITUTE OF SCIENCE
608 51st Street | Leon Brooks and Frisco White, 2004
The Elementary Institute of Science offers a variety of science-based programs for underserved youth. The buildings' fanciful and colorful design, expressed throughout the building's exterior and interior spaces, serves to inspire and engage its students.
- 8 ACCESS YOUTH ACADEMY (UNDER CONSTRUCTION)
704 Euclid Avenue
Access Youth Academy is committed to transforming the lives of underserved youth through an urban squash program. This soon-to-be-completed two-story structure blends sports and academics around a glass-walled entry and open reception and lounge area.
- 9 THE ORCHARD AT HILLTOP (UNDER CONSTRUCTION)
5052 Hilltop Dr
Currently under construction, Orchard at Hilltop is a mixed-use development containing 113 apartment homes for low-income households, as well as approximately 8,000 square feet of commercial space. A portion of the site will be developed with single-family residences to offer attainable home ownership opportunities.
- 10 MILE OF ART/SOUTHEAST ART TEAM
Along Imperial Avenue and Euclid Avenue
Southeast Art Team is a group of talented local artists helping to revitalize their streets. Their work is showcased at multiple locations along Imperial Avenue, with colorful murals and painted utility boxes.
- 11 ENCANTO VILLAGE
6315 Imperial Avenue | Studio E Architects, 2020
Encanto Village is a model for sustainable, transit-oriented urban development. Developed by National CORE, Encanto Village provides 65 units of affordable housing, including 8 units set aside for homeless veterans and their families.
- 12 DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR. WAY PROMENADE
Between Charlene Avenue and Tiffany Avenue
The result of a community-led initiative, the Promenade includes passages from King's speeches on pillars, with QR codes that can be scanned by smartphones to learn more, along with a bust of King. The promenade serves as an educational space for residents and students from nearby schools.
