SITES WORTH VISITING ALONG THE WAY

1. VISUAL ARTS FACILITY
   - Rebecca Binder, 1993
   - Grad student & faculty studios

2. PRICE CENTER EAST
   - Cannon Design / Mehrdad Yazdani Studio, 2008
   - Rectilinear slanting lines create dynamic space physically and visually.

3. LIBRARY WALK
   - Peter Walker William Johnson & Partners, 1995
   - Connects the main campus libraries and acts like a town square for the campus.

4. RIDGEWALK
   - Spurlock Landscape Architects, 2021
   - Attractive multimodal transportation way linking 4 of the 7 colleges.

5. APPLIED PHYSICS & MATHEMATICS BUILDING (AP&M)
   - Robert Mosher, 1964
   - Cast concrete panel construction creating fluting and coffering for a brutalist classical style.

6. MANDEVILLE CENTER
   - A. Quincy Jones & F.E. Emmons, 1975
   - Monument to brutalism, with deep courtyards and blocky air/skylights. Very scifi, Tatooine before Tatooine existed.

7. SALK INSTITUTE
   - Louis Kahn, 1959-1965
   - Dr. Salk envisioned spacious, unobstructed laboratory spaces that could be adapted to the even-changing needs of science, with building materials that were simple, strong, durable and as maintenance-free as possible.

   - Louis Kahn’s vision is particularly felt in the open courtyard of travertine marble, bisected by a ribbon of water which leads your eye to the ocean beyond.

   - The Salk Institute will not be open to the public so get out your sketchbook and attend a virtual BEEP KidSketch program and enjoy the beautiful building this way.
